AGE OF EXPOSURE INSTEAD OF GRAFT

Said Bishop Woodcock at the Grace Episcopal Church

Ringing Sermon On Patriotism and Charitable Thinking By the Prelate.

GOULD MEMORIAL DEDICATION

Consecration of the Gould Memorial Baptistry at Grace Episcopal church on Sunday morning by the Right Reverend Charles E. Woodcock, bishop of Kentucky, was a most beautiful and impressive service. It immediately preceded the regular service. As the choir entered from the parish house, accompanied by Bishop Woodcock and the rector, the Rev. David C. Wright, the procession paused in the baptistry where the processional hymn was concluded. The service of consecration was impressively said by Bishop Woodcock after which the consecration hymn was sung. The rite of infant baptism was administered later to six children by the Rev. David C. Wright.

The baptism is the gift of Mrs. Elbridge Palmer as a memorial to her family: Charles Tillotson Bronson, Victoire Campbell Bronson, John Vinton Gould, Mira Rebecca Gould, Frances Alexander Gould, John Vinton Gould, Jr., Jeannie Campbell Gould, Elbridge Palmer, Mira Bronson Palmer. It is complete with the exception of two memorial windows which are being made in New York and will be placed in this summer or autumn.

The Bronsons and Goulds have been identified with Grace Episcopal church from its very infancy and have been instrumental in its upbuilding through all its struggles, vicissitudes and prosperity. The regular congregation was largely augmented by many family friends and relatives of the Goulds in Paducah.

Bishop Woodcock's sermons were delivered in the clear-cut, epigrammatic style that is so characteristic of him and that holds the attention from the start.

The morning sermon was based on Galatians vi. 12: "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ." It was a vigorous protest against the "sin of ungentleness"; a powerful plea for a broader "brotherhood of man"; more of the Samaritan spirit that will not "pass by on the other side"; an arraignment of the hypocrite as worse than the coward; and enforced the uplifting thought that "No man is hopeless as long as he can feel a sense of shame."

At night from the text, "The glory of the children is their father", he made an inspiring and patriotic address in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the first settlers at Jamestown, Va., on May 13, 1607. It was a ringing call to American pride, American love and American optimism, and emphasized that America was in the development stage today, but carrying on the greatness begun by our fathers. That it was not a country "mad about money-getting", as some American expatriates had represented it to be abroad, but rather the fight was being fearlessly turned, today, on all crookedness in high places, and that the American in art, literature and every calling compared favorably with those in other lands. It was an eloquent tribute calculated to foster the spirit of patriotism and good for all Americans to hear.

"This is an age of exposure, rather than of graft", said the bishop.

The singing at both services was especially fine. The regular choir was assisted by a number of singers from other churches. The soloists in the "Festal Te Deum" at the morning service were: Misses Faith Langstaff, Ethel Calissi and Mr. Robert D. MacMillen. "Fear Ye Not, O Israel" was sung for the morning offertory by Mr. MacMillen and "Forever with the Lord" at night by Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis.

At night the rite of confirmation was administered to two persons.

The offering of the day was for the parish apportionment fund for general missions and amounted to $55.

Seventeen out of a class of nineteen were successful in the examinations for county school graduates, making the second largest graduating class since county schools were established in McCracken county. One pupil stood the first examination immediately after the close of school, and 18 stood the last examinations held Saturday at Lone Oak. The program for the commencement has not been completed, but arrangements are being made for the event.

Commencement will be held in the Kentucky Western college at Lone Oak, five miles from Paducah on the Broadway road, Friday evening, May 24.

Superintendent S. J. Billington is proud of the increase in the class, and hopes to secure at least one graduate from each of the 42 districts next year, and will work hard towards this end. The biggest class in the history of the school numbered 27.

The second highest per cent, was made by Miss Blodie Adcock, 91 and gave her the honor of being salutatorian, a right which she waived in favor of Miss Leola Stewart, who was elected salutatorian prior to the examinations.

Representatives Have No Trouble in Securing Higher Wages for Employees in Local Shops

TINNERS ARE NEXT TO AGREE.

An increased averaging 8½ cents was secured by Illinois Central painters, Mr. Harry Savage, representative from the Paducah shops, having returned from Chicago bringing the new agreement and rules and regulations Sunday. "We had a satisfactory meeting," Mr. Savage stated. "We remained in session but a short time, and got all we asked for. The scale varies with the class of work done. Formerly painters got from 24 cents to 30 cents the hour. The new scale gives from 22 cents the hour to $3.25 per day, which is 25 cents the day more on the high salaried men."

The pipe fitters will be next to sign up. The road granted pipe fitters a raise voluntarily, and it is said no more will be asked, the delegates going to Chicago merely to undertake the formality of signing up the scale.

Engineer Kelley was "pulling" a switch engine. He started to kick a caboose into a siding. John Starks, a colored "helper," was attending to the coupling. Kelley gave him an order, which Starks resented, and a heated quarrel, resulting in Starks pulling a revolver and firing at Kelley's head. Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectively all those distressing symptoms. No other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has

I had dull headaches, was nervous, irritable, and all worn out. Chancing to read one of your advertisements of a case similar to mine cured by Lydia E. Tonight—"Charley's Aunt."

WALLACE PARK CASINO.
Tuesday and Wednesday nights—
"The Traveling Man."

Return of "Charley's Aunt."

No more delicious combination of farce has been witty and clever for the stage than "Charley's Aunt," which will make a return visit to this city tonight before opening an engagement at the new Mary Anderson theater, Louisville, with Etienne Girardot and his admirable supporting company of players. Here's a rollicking comedy that pleases the ladies for the excellent reason that genuine sentiment enters largely into the jollity. The pleasant plot involves half a dozen dainty love stories. Cupid being all-pervading, the all-around heart interest forms the fascinating foundation for the tall superstructure of unalloyed fun. No comedy is more thoroughly amusing as "Charley's Aunt" has been given in recent years, and its world-wide fame is well established. Mr. Girardot will be supported by the same excellent organization of players seen in the play during its previous visit, including Wilfred North, Sol Aiken, Henry Warwick, Frank Hollins, Geo. Le Guere, Paul Borget, Nina Herbert, Pauline Neff, Helena Byrne, Lottie Alter and others. The sale of seats starts Monday morning.

Pardon Offered By Hargis.
Lexington Ky., May 13.—The trial of James Hargis for the murder of James Cockrill began in earnest Saturday. The opening addresses were made and the testimony begun, some of which proved to be new and of sensational character, especially the statement of John Smith, that Judge Hargis had offered, when both were at Frankfort, to go at once and get Smith a pardon from Governor Beckham in advance if he would kill Cockrill.

Don't waste time trying to impress people with the importance of your own importance.

ACCUMULATIONS.
The opening of Spring reminds the prudent man and woman that it is time to get rid of the accumulations of the winter season. The body demands it as the price of comfort and health. In old times the Spring was the season for strong physicking, and heroic were the measures often taken. Nowadays the prudent at this time of the year take a mild but effective prescription, such as $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. Fluid Extract of Buchu, 1 oz. Bulso Mixture, $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. Fluid Extract Gentian Compound and 15 ozs. water. This, taken in doses of a tablespoonful three times a day, before meals, is said to do the work far better than the drastic drugs of old and is vastly more pleasant. The prescription can be put up by any good pharmacy at small cost.

REAL BALL GAME AT WALLACE PARKCulleys Were Defeated in Heartbreaking Finish*Metropolis Blues Again Do Up Local Aggregation—Independents Are Beaten.*SCORES IN THE BIG LEAGUES

In a game which would have been a credit to professionals, the Metropolis "Blues" defeated the Paducah "Culleys" at Wallace park Sunday afternoon by a score of 3 to 0. It was nip and tuck from the start, and a three bagger followed by a "punk pop-up" tallied the first score. The following two were made by lucky base running followed by more "pop-ups." Hart shined in the box for the locals and Doyle for the "Blues" was also in great form. More than 300 fans, Metropolis people being in majority, saw the game, and left well satisfied with the result.

The "Blues" scored one run in the fifth inning. A three base smash to deep left-center was followed by a "pop-up" to right field, after two men were retired. In the eighth inning two more runs were piled up. Base running was principally responsible, although the scores were tallied, through error and not earned.

The score:

In—	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	r h e
Blues	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	3	2

Batteries—Doyle and Dye; Hart and Block.

Independents Defeated.

In a one-sided game at Mound City Sunday afternoon John Holland's Paducah Independents lost to Mound City by a score of 8 to 2. Brahim was slated to pitch for the Independents but was taken ill on the train and remained in bed until the game. He handled himself in the infield creditably. Woodring, formerly Cairo's star twirler last year worked for the Mound City team and had several Cairo boys to support him. His work was nothing extra and Arnold, the Independent pitcher, made as good showing.

The score:

R H E	Mound City	8	6	3
Independents	2	6	8

Batteries—Woodring and Coleman; Arnold and Hayes.

Notes of the Games.

Hart for the Culleys yesterday struck out fully a dozen men. His work was a feature.

The Culley infield is steady but the outfield is not what it should be. The Independents' errors yesterday gave the Mound City team most of its scores, only one being earned.

Block, catcher for the Culleys, looks good for a leaguer before many more seasons. He has a good wing, handles himself quickly and is a sure stiker.

Eaker, on third for the Culleys, is a fast infelder, but throws a little short. Second base would be a better position for the youngster.

Oldest Woman in the World

Mrs. Mary McGrath, of Brandon, Wis., who is 110 years of age and the oldest woman in the world, says that when she takes Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey she feels so well she can walk a mile.

Mrs. McGrath says she tried several other medicines, which did her harm and finally used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as prescribed solely, which restored her to health and prolonged her life.

"I take pleasure in writing to you what a wonderful medicine your Malt Whiskey is. I am never tired of praising it, for it has done me so much good. While I was taking it I could go out and walk a mile. I have taken many other kinds of medicines since I have been sick, and instead of improving me they did me harm. I know what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey does for me, and I want no other medicine." Yours, Mrs. MARY MCGRATH, Brandon, Wis., December 18th, 1906.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is recognized as the best tonic stimulant in the world for both young and old.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is distilled wholly from malted grain by a most expensive method which has never been made public and this private process gives it great medicinal value and insures quality and flavor. Its age, softness, palatability and freedom from those injurious substances found in other whiskies make it acceptable to the most sensitive stomach.

It is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic. It acts as an antitoxin which destroys and drives out all disease germs, creates new nerve tissues, tones and strengthens the heart, gives power to the brain and elasticity to the muscles, enriches the blood and soothes and heals the mucous membranes. It brings into action all the vital forces. It makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens the system, is a stimulator of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a form of food already digested and is recognized as a medicine everywhere.

CAUTION—Sold by all druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Price $1. Inist on the genuine and see that the "Old Chemist" trade-mark is on the label and that the seal over the cork is unbroken. Beware of refined bottling and spurious malt whiskey substitutes offered for sale by unreliable dealers. They are positively harmful and will not cure. DEFAMING THE POLICE.

We are little concerned about the controversy precipitated by Mayor Yeiser's insistence on a vigorous prosecution in police court of an alleged Sunday violator, and we have heretofore refrained from alluding to the episode at the conclusion of the session, in which Police Commissioner Mann Clark asked City Attorney Harrison if he thought a policeman ought to turn his back when he sees a man come out of a saloon on Sunday. Indeed, we rather agree with our evening contemporary when it says: "Mr. Harrison did not, as has been charged, abuse the police in whole or in part, but he did warn them to be more careful in making arrests and in swearing out warrants in cases of this kind."

But when in setting Mr. Harrison's position right, that organ finds it expedient to abuse the policemen, who were doing no more and no less than their sworn duty, we feel called upon to raise our voice in protest at the injustice and the danger of it.

We do not hold the police force above criticism. In times past we have exercised the freedom of the press in calling the department to account for what we considered dereliction of duty, but never have we been guilty of the offense of vilifying individual members of the force for carrying out instructions and performing their duty, no matter how hard hit our friends may have been.

On the front page Saturday evening the organ had the following to say in the course of an editorial under the caption: "Plain Statement of the Mitchell Case":

The facts as brought out in the police court Thursday and Friday are these: W. M. Mitchell operates a saloon at 1,000 South Tenth street. Last Sunday Patrolmen Rogers and Hill saw Mr. Mitchell carrying a basket to the residence of Mrs. Lottie Jacobs, a few doors away. The vigilant police, and one of them is a defeated candidate for city jailer, constituted themselves a "smelling committee," and undertook to find out what was in the basket. Horrible to relate! It was beer and the sensibilities of the police were shocked. A warrant was secured from Magistrate Emery because Police Judge Cross was out of the city. The warrant charged Mitchell with selling liquor on Sunday.

Threshed free of chaff, the statement is correct, barring the inadvertent omission that the policemen "saw Mr. Mitchell carrying a basket (from his saloon) to the residence."

To put the case simply, as well as "plain," these two policemen saw Mitchell carry a basket of beer from his saloon to the house of the Jacobs woman. They assured themselves of its contents, and, as it is against the law to sell liquor on Sunday, they arrested him. Then Mitchell, the Jacobs woman and four inmates of her house, swore that the beer was purchased Saturday night, the warrant was dismissed, and City Attorney Harrison "did warn them to be more careful in making arrests and in swearing out warrants in cases of this kind."

Policemen hear of violations of the Sunday law, and sometimes they have to wait weeks and months to secure evidence sufficient to secure a conviction. Neither the people who sell nor the people who buy will give evidence in favor of the prosecution, and few others can know of the transactions. The guilty people are on the lookout for the police and remain quiet while uniformed men are about. In this case, it may well have been, as Mitchell declares, that he sold the liquor on Saturday night; but we cannot see wherein the policemen merited either a warning or a rebuke. The policemen did not exceed the limits of their discretion. They had no discretion. The statements made by Mitchell and the Jacobs woman constituted his defense, and was a matter for the consideration of a court, not of policemen.

As to the technical questions involved in preparing a warrant, the city employs an attorney to attend to that.

These two policemen, as the organ says, "constituted themselves a smelling committee." And their sense of smell did not deceive them. They smelled beer.

The police were "vigilant," as the organ sneeringly remarked, and one of them is "a defeated candidate for city jailer." That one is Patrolman William Rogers, brother of Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers. For what purpose this bit of gratuitous information is incorporated in a "plain statement of the Mitchell case" we do not know. Analyzing motives of men is an unprofitable pursuit. We can only add to it this comment: If the successful candidate for city jailer proves himself as "vigilant" on all occasions as Patrolman Rogers did on this one, he will not merit either a warning from the city attorney or a rebuke from his party organ.

A Chicago philanthropist, in the guise of a beggar, made the rounds of homes and institutions and failed to secure food or lodging from more than a half dozen of them, the others referring him to the municipal lodging house. He says he saw 2,000 men wandering the streets all night, while only 35 availed themselves of the privilege of the municipal lodging house. He concludes that people are uncharitable. His view is reactionary. Organized charity that discriminates between the deserving and undeserving is the modern and proper conception. The municipal lodging house probably is not a palace, but then it would be dangerous to make charity attractive. The professor fell down on his begging virtue, because he is an unpracticed amateur. The professional finds it profitable, even in Chicago.

Concluding an itemized statement of the doubling of salaries of all the state officials by the Illinois legislature, a news special says, "the bill will go to the governor." Not so. The bill will go to the people to whom the millinery and grocery bills go.

ILLINOIS STATE
ASSEMBLY OVERWill Meet Wednesday to Take
Up Waterway BillTwo Cent Fare Law, Pure Food Bill,
Grand Jury Reform and Other Measures.

SHELBY CULLOM RE-ELECTED

Springfield, Ill., May 13.—The forty-fifth general assembly adjourned at 6:35 Sunday morning until Wednesday when Governor Deeney's deep waterway bill will be taken up. The work of the general assembly practically ceased with this adjournment. The legislature during four months' sitting has done much important work. The pure food committee has been established, giving the state food commissioner power to enforce strict sanitary conditions in all food producing establishments.

During the closing hours of the session the new charter for Chicago passed, giving the city almost unlimited home rule removing the five per cent tax limitation and dividing the city into 50 wards instead of 35.

Many insurance measures patterned after New York and Massachusetts laws were passed.

State banking laws were revised bringing state banks under stiffer control.

Many Important Measures.

Other measures passed are: The 2 cent fare law; a law requiring state registration of automobiles and fixing the maximum speed at 20 miles an hour; a law requiring the turning into the state treasury interest on all public funds; measures embracing elaborate extension of Chicago's park and boulevard system; an appropriation of $500,000 for beginning a new state prison at Joliet at a total cost of about $2,000,000; local option bill; and a measure codifying and harmonizing laws of negotiable instruments, land titles, warehouse receipts practice and procedure in courts.

The assembly also increased salaries of members of the legislature to $2,000; the governor to $12,000; state treasurer and attorney general to $10,000 each and other state officials, except the Lieutenant Governor, to $7,500.

The newspapers of Indiana during the last six months have said a great deal about the peculiar discovery that is now creating so much talk in Paducah. Many thought the merits of the discovery was greatly exaggerated, but judging from the reports that are now pouring in from local people, the great remedy is even more wonderful than is generally supposed. A number of people have reported rapid recovery from stomach troubles after taking a few doses of the juice. Last Saturday a lady said: "I was confined to my bed with a severe stomach and kidney trouble four days ago but after taking a few doses of that wonderful Root Juice, I was up and able to do my house work. The instructors at Alvey & List's drug store are busy listening to reports of this nature. We are told the instructors will remain in Paducah the remainder of this week. The juice seems to have a wonderful curative action on the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys and usually causes perceptible improvement from the very start. The twenty-first reunion of the Old Southern Harmony Singing will be at Benton on Sunday, May 26. Since they began, many of the "old timers" have passed across the dark river of death and are now singing such songs as old "Primrose", "King of Peace", "New Brittain", "Jerusalem", "Happy Land", "Thorny Desert", "The Christian Farewell", and many other songs that were familiar 50 years ago.

"The Traveling Man" at Wallace Park.

"The Traveling Man" will be given on Tuesday evening at the Casino theater at Wallace park. The demand for the popular little musical comedy has proved so great that the managers have agreed to put it on again, although when the proposition was first made them Friday night it was deemed hardly feasible. The prices will be popular ones of 25 and 35 cents, with 50 cents for the boxes. There is every prospect for the theater being crowded, as all who saw it will want to go again and those who do not see it will feel they cannot afford to miss the opportunity and the bargain combined. It is decidedly the catchiest thing played in Paducah this season and has scored a distinct success in every particular. It was played Saturday afternoon to another large house.

Miss Nell Clayton, who has spent the winter in Arkansas with her uncle, J. S. Fritzburg returned to her home on North Sixth street Saturday.

Mr. Vaughn Dabney will return to Memphis tonight after visiting his parents. Mr. Dabney is with the government engineers on the Mississippi river levees.

Mr. E. H. Covington has returned from Mayfield, accompanied by his son Gus Covington of that city.

Miss Kittle Linn, of Mayfield, is the guest of Miss Little Thomas for a few days.

Mr. Emil Gourieux, foreman of the I. C. car repairing shops, is in Louisville, and his position is being filled by Mr. Frank Budde.

Trustee Felix Rudolph held a sale of the estate of W. D. Melton, bankrupt, at the court house this morning. One tract of land in McCracken county near Bandana, 88 acres, was sold to Cecil Reed and J. D. McQuot for $1,300. A second tract of 21 acres in Ballard county was sold for $70 cash, to A. D. Melton of Pool. The assets of the estate now in the hands of the trustee are $2,875. The liabilities are $8,000.

Bogus Latin.

This is from the London Chronicle:

Who invented the bogus Latin expression "omnium gatherum," which Mr. Arnold Forster has been applying to Mr. Haldane's territorial army arrangements? We do not expect the question to be answered, since the inventor is almost certainly lost in antiquity. Writing to his wife in 1776, John Adams, the future president of the United States, likened his letters to "the dish which is sometimes called omnium gatherum," and added: "This is the first time, I believe, that those two words were ever put together in writing." But Adams was at least two centuries and more out. Dr. Murray's dictionary gives an instance of "omnium gatherum" as early as 1530, and in the seventeenth century it seems to have been the name of a kind of scrambling dance. "Omnigatherum" in one word was an early variant.

MANUAL SCHOOLS ARE DISCUSSED

Prof. Shortridge, of Cairo, at The Public Library

Advantages and Benefits of System in Schools and Best Methods of Work.

HOW IT STARTED AT CARO.

The Americanizing influence of manual training probably was the most significant point brought out by Prof. W. F. Shortridge, of the Cairo public schools, in his lecture at the public library Saturday afternoon. Manual training shows the young American generation that physical labor not only is honorable but requires, to be done right, a high order of intelligence. The consequence, he observed, from the public working in woods and other materials, was to give them a proper appreciation of labor and to free them from the social snobbishness which is so dangerous to American ideals.

Professor Shortridge's lecture was in the nature of a talk to his class. He traced the history of his subject finding its beginning in Sweden. In his experience he has found that manual training keeps boys in school longer, makes them more useful around the home, gives them physical development, often enables them to find their natural line of work, teaches observation of workmanship, and generally turns them into constructive members of society. The boy gets the products of his own work and hence has a personal interest in painstaking workmanship.

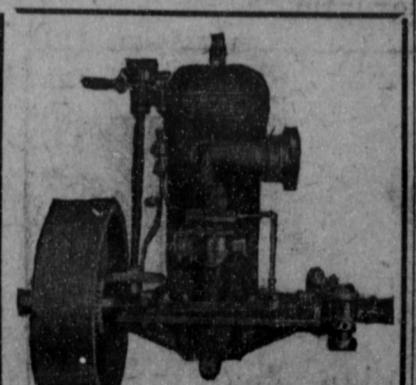

Comparing the boy who learned a trade in a factory or work shop with the one who takes a manual course, he showed how economic conditions made foremen assign an apprentice to that particular line of work for which he is best suited, and to leave him in that rut. In the manual school, he learns the whole art, because the object of the school is to turn out a competent boy while the object of the factory is to turn out products.

Professor Shortridge had drawings of his pupils with him and photographs of their work. He said a start in a manual course could be made for $1,200 and that the first $1,000 has been gotten from private subscription in Cairo. The cost for materials after the outfit is bought is not heavy. He advised that the work should be done under the direction of a trained instructor and the less complicated kinds of work be begun in the Seventh grade.

He fought at Gettysburg. David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $500 for what they have done for me." Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nerve. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife would, it is believed, seldom have to employ if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will show that it is non-alcoholic, being a pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection, it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of the several schools of practice, so that you are safe in buying the aliments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, from R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

DUNCOMBE was passed from the concierge to a footman and from a footman to a quietly dressed groom of the chamber, who brought him at last to Mme. la Marquise. She gave him the tips of her fingers and a somewhat inquiring gaze.

"Sir George Duncombe, is it not?" she remarked. "I am not receiving this afternoon, but your message was so urgent. Forgive me, but it was not by any chance my husband whom you wished to see?"

"Your husband would have done as well, madame," Duncombe answered bluntly, "but I learned that he was not at home. My visit is really to Miss Poynton. I should be exceedingly obliged if you would allow me the privilege of a few minutes' conversation with her."

The forehead of the marquise was wrinkled with surprise. She stood amidst all the wonders of her magnificently drawn room like a dainty Dresden doll—petite, cold, dressed to perfection. Her manner and her tone were alike frigid.

"But, monsieur," she said, "that is wholly impossible. Mademoiselle is too thoroughly upset by the terrible news in the paper this morning. It is unheard-of. Monsieur may call again if he is a friend of Mlle. Poynton's—say, in a fortnight."

"Marquise," he said, "it is necessary that I see mademoiselle at once. I am the bearer of good news."

The marquise looked at him steadily. "Of good news, monsieur?"

"Certainly."

"But how can that be?"

"If madame will give me the opportunity," he said, "I should only be too glad to explain—to Mlle. Poynton."

"It, indeed, it should be good news," the marquise said slowly, "it were better broken gradually to mademoiselle. I will take her a message."

"Permit me to see her, marquise," he begged. "My errand is indeed important."

She shook her head.

"It is not," she said, "according to the conveniences." Mademoiselle is under my protection—I have not the honor of knowing you, monsieur."

Duncombe raised his eyebrows.

"But you remember calling at my house in Norfolk and bringing Miss Poynton away," he said.

She stared at him calmly.

"The matter," she said, "has escaped my memory. I do not love your country, monsieur, and my rare visits there do not linger in my mind."

"Your husband," he reminded her, "asked me to visit you here."

"My husband's friends," she replied, "are not mine."

The calm insolence of her manner toward him took him aback. He had scarcely expected such a reception.

"I can only apologize, madame," he said, "with a bow, "for intruding. I will await your husband's return in the hall."

He bowed low and turned to leave the room. He had almost reached the door before she stopped him.

"Wait!"

He turned round. Her voice was different.

"Come and sit down here," she said, pointing to sofa by her side.

He obeyed her, thoroughly amazed. She leaned back among the cushions and looked at him thoughtfully.

"How is it that you, an Englishman, speak French so well?" she asked.

"I lived in Paris for some years," he answered.

"Indeed! And yet you returned to Norfolk, is it?"

He bowed.

"It is true, madame," he admitted.

"How droll!" she murmured. "Miss Poynton—she is an old friend of yours?"

"I am very anxious to see her, madame."

"Why?"

He hesitated. After all his was no secret mission.

"I have reason to believe," he said, "that a mistake has been made in the identity of the body found in the Seine and supposed to be her brother's."

She gave a little start. It seemed to him that from that moment she regarded him with more interest.

"But that, monsieur," she said, "is not possible."

She did not answer him for a moment. Instead she rang a bell.

A servant appeared almost immediately.

"Request M. le Marquis to step this way immediately he returns," she ordered.

The man bowed and withdrew. The marquise turned again to Duncombe.

"It is quite impossible," she repeated.

"Do you know who it was that identified the young man?"

Duncombe shook his head.

"I know nothing," he said. "I saw the notice in the paper, and I have been to the morgue with a friend."

"Were you allowed to see it?"

"No; for some reason or other we were not, but we managed to bribe one of the attendants, and we got the police description."

"This," madame said, "is interesting. Well?"

"There was one point in particular in the description," Duncombe said,

"and a very important one, which

Duncombe hesitated. He saw no reason for concealing the facts.

"The height of the body," he said, "was given five feet nine. Guy Poynton was over six feet."

The marquise nodded her head slowly.

"And now," she said, "shall I tell you who it is who identified the body at the morgue—apart from the papers which were found in his pocket and which certainly belonged to Mr. Poynton?"

"I should be interested to know," he admitted.

"It was Miss Poynton herself. It is that which has upset her so. She recognized him at once."

"Are you sure of this, madame?" Duncombe asked.

"I myself," the marquise answered, "accompanied her there. It was terrible."

Duncombe looked very grave.

Maysville, Ky., May 13.—The meeting of the Grand Commandery of Kentucky, Knights Templar, will be attended by a large gathering of Sir Knights and ladies is now an assured fact. The decorators are busy at work dressing the town up in gorgeous fashion. Not a single business house or private residence in the city proper will be without its flags of "Welcome Sir Knights", with a liberal amount of bunting to make the places show that hospitality reigns here to all who are familiar with the cross and crown work.

That no one may feel at all uneasy about the safety of their valuables, the city council has ordered Mayor W. E. Stalcup and Chief of Police Harry A. Art to employ two good detectives for service here during the concclave to prevent pickpockets and thieves from getting in their work or attempting it.

The streets will be put in splendid condition, and every citizen has appointed himself a committee to see that no one who enters the city next week will be compelled to leave without having partaken of hospitality.

General Commander Thomas A. Keith and wife have issued beautiful engraved invitations to their reception Tuesday night, while Webb Commandery of Lexington, has also issued invitations to the reception at Beechwood park. The decorating will be completed by Tuesday morning.

Railroad Gossip.

Mr. R. B. Misenheimer, formerly baggage agent for the Illinois Central, but now employed in the traffic department at Memphis, is visiting in the city.

Mr. Joe Walker, foreman of the mechanical department of the Nashville division of the Illinois Central, returned to Princeton this morning after a visit to this city. Mr. Walker is tipped for general foreman at the Paducah shops, but no authority for his appointment has been received.

Mr. J. C. Martin, foreman of the Illinois Central paint shops, is in Louisville, and Mr. Harry Savage is acting in his place.

Mr. John H. Trent, formerly storekeeper for the Illinois Central but now manager of the St. Louis railroad branch of a big New York asbestos manufacturing firm, was in Paducah yesterday on a visit. He announced that he would remain in his present position.

The "air car" is doing a big business in Paducah. It is here to examine engineers on the application of air in every form, and several Paducahans have undergone the tests. This morning four young engineers from Water Valley, Miss., stood the examination. They are Messrs. E. J. Parker, J. W. Terry, F. Pearson and Bob Fletcher.

The wreck occurred exactly at 2:35 o'clock.

R. Fountain, brakeman; H. R. Lee, Orwigsburg, Pa.; J. Logan, Buffalo; Chas. McKinney, Binghampton, N. Y., leg broken.

Boise, Idaho, May 13.—With the report that the defense in the Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone cases, has failed to prove that Moyer was not once convicted in Chicago and confined in the prison at Joliet, and the announcement that the state has promised to reveal a story of crime and bloodshed that will startle the country when the Haywood trial starts, come various rumors that Harry Orchard will never live to tell what is alleged to know of the workings of the "inner circle" of the miners' federation.

The interest in the trial testimony of Orchard, who is alleged to have killed Governor Steunenberg and upon whose confession William Haywood and associates in the Western Federation of Miners were indicted.

Meantime Orchard is a closely guarded prisoner in the state penitentiary, a castle-like structure in the eastern suburbs. Today numerous reports as to attempts to reach or kill Orchard are in circulation, the last being a tale from Lewiston of a plot to shoot Orchard from the hills back of the prison.

Bert Bradford of 924 South Sixth street, Paducah, Ky., says: "I doctor for two years continually for backache and kidney and bladder troubles. Last summer I never left my room for two weeks on account of the weak condition of my kidneys and back. I have suffered everything from pains across my hips and back and have taken a great deal of medicine but did not get any permanent relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills which I procured at Alvey & List's drug store and used them as directed. After taking three boxes I was much improved and continued their use until I had used ten boxes in all when I had received a complete cure. I am very grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills and heartily recommend them."

DRIVING ROD

THIS PASSED ENGINEER'S HEAD AT UNION STATION.

Crashes Into Block Signal and Wrecks Roof of Coach Standing on the Track.

Hurled with the force of a twelve-inch cannon, a driving rod narrowly missed Engineer S. L. Atherton's head, struck the block signal post at the Union station, knocked it nearly down, and then tore away a portion of the roof of coach No. 2,825. Having expended its force, the rod rebounded to the ground and nearly buried itself with its weight in the soft stone screenings. The escape of the engineer was miraculous, driving rods having been known to tear the entire cab away and kill engineers and firemen. The escape of Engineer Atherton is attributed to the fact that the rod broke entirely loose from the engine, making it impossible for it to whip the engine cab.

Passenger train, 836, from Cairo, having its terminal here, arrived shortly after 8 o'clock Sunday night. It was pulled by engines No. 1,339 and 210, Engineers Evitts and Atherton. The coaches were stored on siding and the double headed engines started backing down the second track to the shops. Atherton's engine was in the lead and he leaned far out of his cab to watch ahead. The engine was running at a pretty good clip when suddenly a harsh cracking sound followed by a series of crashes caused the engineer to apply air.

The side rod from Atherton's engine had broken loose. Its course missed the engineer just five inches.
